COURSE OVERVIEW: The instructor development course is designed to assist in the development of L.E. Officers who can return to their organizations as instructors & subject matter experts. Attendees will increase their ability & effectiveness to instruct others within a practical L.E. – specific context. Students in the course will be expected to conduct two "teach backs" of learned & designed material to the instructor(s) & complete the course successfully. Students must conduct the teach-backs & pass a written exam to complete the course successfully.
Attendees will also be taught classroom instructional methods & how to effectively teach academic & physical skills to adult learners relevant to the dynamic police operational environment & their agency needs. This is an interactive course where students actively participate in the learning environment created by experienced instructors.

COURSE OBJECTIVES: Identify the goal of creating a teaching model to successfully & effectively train police officers to perform competently in a L.E. field context. Understand & apply the concepts of adult learning. Recognize & understand the characteristics of adult learners. Identify & employ instructional strategies that promote adult learning. Understand the unique variables of teaching & learning in L.E., amongst other objectives.
